

Bagot Street	Glen Osmond
---------------------	--------------------

Origin of present name

Probably named after Captain Charles Harvey Bagot (1844-1869).

Charles Bagot was a pastoralist, mine owner, MLC and partner of Bagot, Shakes & Lewis Ltd an auctioneering agency. Possibly he owned land in the vicinity or sold off the subdivision.

Year in which street acquired present name

Sources of information

Cockburn, Rodney, What's in a Name, p. 16.

Bakewell Street	Tusmore
------------------------	----------------

Origin of present name

Named after John W. Bakewell.

From 1876 to at least 1911 John Bakewell of Crafers was a member of the Colonial Board of Advice of the South Australian Company. The company owned Section 291, which was the land bounded by Portrush Road and Greenhill Road, and approximately by Barr Smith Street and Tusmore Avenue.

Other streets in the vicinity with names of members of that Board when this land was subdivided in 1911 are Brandreth Street, Barr Smith Street, Fisher Street, Kennaway Street and Stirling Street.

(See also the streets mentioned above.)

Year in which street acquired present name 1911

Sources of information

Mortlock Library, South Australian Company Annual Report 1911.

Barker Grove	Toorak Gardens
---------------------	-----------------------

Origin of present name

Named after William Johnston Barker.

Originally the 134 acre Section 274 which is now Toorak Gardens had belonged to the South Australian Company which leased and then sold it to Andrew and Margaret Fergusson from Monreith in Scotland. They called it Monreith Farm growing wheat and barley, and building a flour mill near where Sprod Avenue now lies.

William Barker subdivided the portion between Sprod Avenue and Barker Grove in 1925. He was councillor for Toorak Gardens from 1922 to 1936, and Alderman from 1936 to 1941.

(See also Cudmore Avenue, Fergusson Square and Sprod Avenue, Toorak Gardens.)

Year in which street acquired present name 1925

Sources of information

Burnside Library, Local History Collection.

Burnside Street Names and their Origins

B

Barnes Avenue	Magill
----------------------	---------------

Origin of present name

Named after Thomas Barnes (1828-1891).

Thomas Barnes was the first clerk of the Burnside District Council which was established in 1856. His house at 508 Magill Road was still standing in 1986 but has since been demolished.

Year in which street acquired present name

Sources of information

Warburton, Elizabeth, The Paddocks Beneath, p. 201.

Barr Smith Street	Tusmore
--------------------------	----------------

Origin of present name

Named after T.E. Barr Smith of Glen Osmond.

From 1911 to at least 1914 he was a member of the Colonial Board of Advice of the South Australian Company. The company owned Section 291, which was the land bounded by Portrush Road and Greenhill Road, and approximately by Barr Smith Street and Tusmore Avenue.

Rupert Barr Smith had been on the same board until 1911 but the street is more likely to be named after T.E. Barr Smith.

Other streets in the vicinity with names of the members of that Board when this land was subdivided in 1911 are Bakewell Street, Fisher Street, Kennaway Street and Stirling Street.

(See also the streets mentioned above.)

Year in which street acquired present name 1911

Sources of information

Mortlock Library, Index to ships arriving in South Australia from overseas.

Bath Lane	Eastwood
------------------	-----------------

Earlier name(s) if different from present name

None.

Origin of earlier name

When the suburb of Eastwood was laid out this was an unnamed night cart lane running between Bath Street and Bristol Street to service the houses on John Street. The Burnside Council later decided that the lanes should have names so that they could be more easily identified.

Origin of present name

Named after Bath Street, Eastwood.

(See also Bath Street and Bristol Street, Eastwood.)

Year in which street acquired present name 1998

Bath Street	Eastwood
--------------------	-----------------

Origin of present name

Unknown.

Possibly named after the city of Bath in England. Another street in the vicinity with a name associated with a nearby English town is Bristol Street.

Burnside Street Names and their Origins

B

Boulderstone Place	Linden Park
---------------------------	--------------------

Origin of present name

Named after the Boulderstone family who owned Boulderstone Farm in this vicinity.

Year in which street acquired present name

Sources of information

Private information from Charles Grimes.

Bayly Street	Kensington Gardens
---------------------	---------------------------

Origin of present name

Named after George Bayly (1817-95).

George Bayly, miller and farmer from London, leased and then bought 30 acres in the vicinity. He lived here for 20 years from 1854 whilst going through a number of ups and downs in business.

Year in which street acquired present name

Sources of information

Warburton, Elizabeth, The Paddocks Beneath, p. 239.

Bayview Crescent	Beaumont
-------------------------	-----------------

Origin of present name

Unknown.

Probably because the bay can be seen in the distance.

Year in which street acquired present name

Sources of information

Bayly Street	Kensington Gardens
---------------------	---------------------------

Origin of present name

Named after George Bayly (1817-95).

George Bayly, miller and farmer from London, leased and then bought 30 acres in the vicinity. He lived here for 20 years from 1854 whilst going through a number of ups and downs in business.

Year in which street acquired present name

Sources of information

Warburton, Elizabeth, The Paddocks Beneath, p. 239.

A

Burnside Street Names and their Origins

B

Beatty Street

Linden Park

Origin of present name

Named after Admiral David Beatty (1871-1936).

Beatty was an Admiral during the World War I. He commanded Great Britain's first Battle Cruiser Squadron from 1912-1916 and bore the brunt of the Battle of Jutland. In 1916 he became commander of the fleet, and in 1918 received the surrender of the German fleet. He became 1st Earl of Jutland (1916), and 1st Sea Lord (1919).

His name was commemorated by the South Australian Company which owned the land at the time of the subdivision.

Other streets in the vicinity with names associated with Admirals of the World War I (1914-18) are Craddock Street, Hood Street, Jellicoe Street, Keyes Street and Sturdee Street.

Year in which street acquired present name 1921

Sources of information

Cockburn, Rodney, What's in a Name, p. 21.

The Complete Reference Encyclopaedia 1994.

Warburton, Elizabeth, The Paddocks Beneath, p. 141.

Bedford Street

Kensington Park

Origin of present name

Unknown.

Probably named after the town of Bedford in Bedfordshire, England. Other streets in the vicinity with names associated with British towns are Ellesmere, Guildford, Pembroke, Uxbridge and Walsall.

Year in which street acquired present name

Sources of information

Bellevue Drive

Beaumont

Origin of present name

Named after the house and estate Belle Vue.

Forty acres comprising the northern half of the Sunnyside section were leased to James Grylls who built a stone cottage on the land which he later bought in 1848. His only child Ellen, Mrs George Goldsack, inherited the property and then her son owned it until his death in 1957. Grylls, a Cornish miner, had lived in Bellevue Terrace, Penzance, Cornwall. Belle Vue was demolished in 1958 when the property was subdivided into thirteen blocks. The road follows part of the original driveway to the house.

Belle vue is the French for beautiful view. From this vantage point there is a magnificent view of the southern suburbs, the sea and the city.

(For further information about the Sunnyside estate, see Sunnyside Road, Beaumont.)

Year in which street acquired present name 1958

Sources of information

Private information from Jean Whitney, a relative in Melbourne.

Warburton, Elizabeth, The Paddocks Beneath, p. 174.

Burnside Street Names and their Origins

B

Benacre Close

Glen Osmond

Origin of present name

Named after the house and estate Benacre.

Benacre was built in 1842 for William Bickford, the chemist who founded the firm of druggists named Bickford's. It became well known for the beauty of its garden which contained many exotic plants and trees, some of which are still standing in the vicinity.

Later it was the home of the Hon John Lewis, MLC.

Benacre is at the end of this road which was the original driveway from Glen Osmond Road.

Year in which street acquired present name

Sources of information

Warburton, Elizabeth, The Paddocks Beneath, p. 120.

Bennett Avenue

Beaumont

Origin of present name

Named after Isabella Bennett (1823-1921).

The land in this vicinity was originally part of the Beaumont House estate. Isabella and her husband Mr R.W. Bennett were the owners when he died at a young age. She then married Mr Kenneth A. Brock who thus took possession of the estate in 1911. The Brocks were the last private owners of Beaumont House and bequeathed it to the National Trust in 1968.

Year in which street acquired present name

Possibly late 1960s

Sources of information

Warburton, Elizabeth, The Paddocks Beneath, p. 157.

Bennett Crescent

Magill

Origin of present name

Named after Francis Bennett (1812-1865).

Francis Bennett founded the Magill Pottery which was later run by his son Charles (1842-1919) and grandson William Charles.

Year in which street acquired present name

Sources of information

Warburton, Elizabeth, The Paddocks Beneath, p. 203.

Burnside Street Names and their Origins

B

Berry Court

Burnside

Origin of present name

Named after the Berry family who were owners of Ringmer the house at No 2 Ringmer Drive which also abuts Berry Crescent.

William Berry (1805-1888) bought eighteen acres of Section 903 in 1859 and named it after his home village in Sussex. On his death it passed to his son Edwin Stow Berry (1845-1934), then to John Borrow, and in 1965 to Ian Wilson MHR whose wife is a descendent of the original owner.

The land was subdivided by the land agents Woodham Biggs in 1964.

(See also Borrow Drive, Burnside which is nearby.)

Year in which street acquired present name 1964

Sources of information

Warburton, Elizabeth, The Paddocks Beneath, pp. 32-33.

Bethune Avenue

Glenunga

Origin of present name

Unknown.

Probably named after the town in north east France which was a centre of fighting during World War I (1914-1918).

Subdivision of this part of the original Glenunga Farm probably took place at about this time.

Year in which street acquired present name Early 1920s

Sources of information

Private information from Richard House.

Beulah Road

Beulah Park

Origin of present name

Unknown.

Probably named after Beulah Road in London. Beulah is the name of several roads in London, one of which is near the London suburb of Norwood. Rodney Cockburn says the word Beulah has been used by hymn writers to describe the better land.

It is an extension of Beulah Road, Norwood.

(See also Beulah Road, Kensington Park and Wilkinson Lane, Beulah Park.)

Year in which street acquired present name

Sources of information

Cockburn, Rodney, What's in a Name, p. 23.

Private information from Richard House.

Burnside Street Names and their Origins

B

Beulah Road	Kensington Park
--------------------	------------------------

Earlier name(s) if different from present name

Palmer Street (from Dunstan Avenue to McKenna Street).

Ashbourne Avenue (from Burnside Road which is now Glynburn Road to Orange Grove).

Origin of earlier name

Beulah Road, Kensington Park originally consisted of two short roads which did not connect with each other or with Beulah Road in Norwood because of the large grounds of Seaton and Stonyfell Creek which had no bridges. The western end was Palmer Street and the eastern was Ashbourne Avenue.

Origin of present name

See Beulah Road, Beulah Park.

Year in which street acquired present name c. 1927

Sources of information

Burnside Library, Local History Collection, Land Sale Notices, June 1924.

Cockburn, Rodney, What's in a Name, p. 23.

South Australian Directory, 1927 and 1935.

Bevington Road	Glenunga
-----------------------	-----------------

Origin of present name

Unknown.

Possibly named after the village of Bevington on the River Severn in England, or the street of that name in Oxford.

Year in which street acquired present name

Sources of information

Bibury Avenue	Beaumont
----------------------	-----------------

Origin of present name

Unknown.

Probably named after the village of Bibury in the Cotswolds near Cirencester in England which may have had some connection with the last land owner.

Thirkel Avenue and Tennyson Drive were not originally linked and in December 1954 it was moved in the Council that the Town Clerk should negotiate with the owner of the land on which a link could be built.

Year in which street acquired present name c. 1955

Sources of information

Burnside News-Review, December 1954.

Private information from Richard House.

Burnside Street Names and their Origins

B

Birdwood Avenue Frewville

Origin of present name

Unknown.

Probably named after General Sir William R. Birdwood, a famous general of World War I (1914-1918).

The subdivision took place at about this time.

Year in which street acquired present name 1920s

Sources of information

Cockburn, Rodney, What's in a Name, p. 24.

Birkdale Crescent Mount Osmond

Origin of present name

Unknown.

Possibly named after the town of Birkdale, Merseyside, England.

Year in which street acquired present name

Sources of information

Birkin Street Eastwood

Origin of present name

Named after Ebenezer Birkin.

Ebenezer Birkin, bootmaker, was a local resident. He was a Councillor of the Burnside District Council between 1869 and 1875 and Chairman from 1876 to 1879 during which time the subdivision was done by John Wark.

Year in which street acquired present name 1878-1879

Sources of information

Burnside Library, Local History Collection.

Warburton, Elizabeth, The Paddocks Beneath, pp. 268-269.

Birnie Avenue Kensington Park

Origin of present name

Unknown.

Probably after the ship Martha Birnie which made four voyages to Adelaide arriving in July 1872, October 1873, August 1874, and August 1875.

Other streets in Kensington Park with ships' names are Lomond (possibly), Jessie, May and Alpha.

Year in which street acquired present name

Sources of information

Mortlock Library, Index to ships arriving in South Australia from overseas 1836-1900.

Burnside Street Names and their Origins

B

Bishop Street

Skye

Origin of present name

Named after William James Bishop OBE. (1894-1967).

William Bishop, an orchardist in Basket Range, was a prominent resident of the East Torrens District Council area and Chairman of the Council from 1950 to 1965.

The suburb of Skye was in the East Torrens District Council until 1999 when it was transferred to Burnside Council.

Year in which street acquired present name

Sources of information

Bishop, J. M. & Bishop, G. C., There Cherries Grew. The Bishops of Eldervale.

Private information from Dr Geoffrey Bishop of Basket Range, a descendant of W. J. Bishop.

Blairgowrie Road

St Georges

Earlier name(s) if different from present name

Yurnga Street.

Origin of earlier name

Probably based on the Aboriginal word yurnga meaning 'extensive view'.

Origin of present name

A name with a Scottish association probably given by Malcolm Tweedie who owned the land before subdivision in the 1920s.

Malcolm Tweedie a metallurgist from Scotland, owned The Croft and land down to Portrush Road. The house was located on the lower side of Sunnyside Road near the corner of Dashwood Road where the creek passes by. The estate was mainly a 67 acre apricot orchard and when it was subdivided a number of the local streets were given Scottish names.

(See also Brae Avenue, Craighill Road, and Woodcroft Avenue all in St Georges.)

Year in which street acquired present name

1920s

Sources of information

Reed, A. W., Aboriginal words and place names, p. 144.

Warburton, Elizabeth, The Paddocks Beneath, p. 138.

Blyth Street

Glen Osmond

Origin of present name

Unknown.

Possibly named after either of two brothers:

- Sir Arthur Blyth (1823-1891), MP, Premier and Treasurer. He lived at Mitcham, was Chairman of the Mitcham District Council and died whilst holding the office of Agent General for SA in London.
- Neville Blyth (1825-1890), merchant, ironmonger, politician, who lived in North Adelaide and Hazelwood Park.

Year in which street acquired present name

Sources of information

Cockburn, Rodney, What's in a Name, p. 27.

Burnside Street Names and their Origins

B

Bolingbroke Grove	Toorak Gardens
--------------------------	-----------------------

Origin of present name

Unknown.

Probably named after the stately English home. Other streets in the vicinity with names associated with stately English homes are Chatsworth Grove and Warwick Avenue.

Year in which street acquired present name

Sources of information

Bonvue Avenue	Beaumont
----------------------	-----------------

Origin of present name

Unknown.

Bon vue is the French for 'good view'. From this vantage point just above the home Sunnyside there is a magnificent view of the southern suburbs, the sea and the city.

The road was established during the subdivision of 1922 by the Thirkell brothers who offered allotments for sale in 1924.

(See also Thirkell Avenue, Beaumont.)

Year in which street acquired present name

c. 1922

Sources of information

Queale, Ann, Sunnyside: A Study of a Changing Landscape.

Bonython Avenue	Beaumont
------------------------	-----------------

Origin of present name

Named after Alfred McBain Bonython.

Alfred Bonython was a brother of Sir Langdon Bonython, the sole proprietor and editor of The Advertiser.

Year in which street acquired present name

Sources of information

Cockburn, Rodney, What's in a Name, p. 28.

Booth Avenue	Linden Park
---------------------	--------------------

Origin of present name

Named after William Booth (1829-1912).

William Booth was founder and General of the Salvation Army.

The road is adjacent to Parklyn the Salvation Army's Senior Citizens Home.

Year in which street acquired present name

Sources of information

Burnside Street Names and their Origins

B

Borda Street	Kensington Park
---------------------	------------------------

Origin of present name

Unknown.

Possibly some connection with Cape Borda on Kangaroo Island which was named by Commander Baudin, the French sea captain who had met Captain Flinders in Encounter Bay in 1802.

Year in which street acquired present name

Sources of information

Manning, Geoffrey H., Manning's Place Names of South Australia, p. 43.

Borrow Drive	Burnside
---------------------	-----------------

Origin of present name

Named after the family of John Borrow.

John Borrow was sometime owner of Ringmer which is the house in the corner between Borrow Drive and Berry Crescent, and on his death his wife continued living there until 1965.

The area was subdivided by the firm Woodham Biggs in 1964.

(See also Berry Court, Burnside.)

Year in which street acquired present name 1964

Sources of information

Private information from David Dixon, 1986.

Warburton, Elizabeth, The Paddocks Beneath, p. 33.

Borthwick Court	Beaumont
------------------------	-----------------

Origin of present name

Named after Thomas Borthwick.

Thomas Borthwick was Health Officer for Burnside in 1883.

Year in which street acquired present name

Sources of information

Encyclopaedia of South Australia, vol. 1, p. 44.

Boucaut Street	Glen Osmond
-----------------------	--------------------

Origin of present name

Probably named after Sir James Penn Boucaut (1831-1916).

Sir James Penn, legislator and judge was three times Premier of South Australia.

(However the sources give no connection with Glen Osmond.)

Year in which street acquired present name

Sources of information

Cockburn, Rodney, What's in a Name, p. 29.

Manning, Geoffrey H., Manning's Place Names of South Australia, p. 44.

Burnside Street Names and their Origins

B

Bower Place

Eastwood

Origin of present name

Unknown.

In England the Bower House was the house to which the widow of a rich estate owner moved when her husband died and her son inherited the house and estate. Possibly there was a similar situation relating to the nearby house Hauteville which was demolished to make way for a multi-story office block for the Electricity Trust of South Australia in 1962.

Year in which street acquired present name

Sources of information

Private information from Richard House.

Warburton, Elizabeth, The Paddocks Beneath, p. 266.

Bowman Avenue

Kensington Park

Origin of present name

Named after Edmund Bowman.

For some years after 1915 Edmund Bowman lived in the house Wandillah on the nearby Yeronga Avenue before further subdivision.

Previously the house had been the home of James and Henry Dunstan of Stonyfell Quarry until it was bought and renamed by Bowman.

The famous house Martindale Hall near Clare was originally built for Edmund Bowman between 1879 and 1880 and he lived there until the bank foreclosed on him in 1891 and the house was bought by William Mortlock.

(See also Yeronga Avenue, Kensington Park.)

Year in which street acquired present name

Sources of information

Private information from Richard House.

Warburton, J. W. (ed), Five Creeks of the River Torrens, p. 51.

Bradfield Street

Burnside

Origin of present name

Named after the house Bradfield which was on this site.

James Warland (1796-1875) built a house here after he retired from running a property further up the Burnside hills where he ran sheep, angora goats and cattle. It was later named Bradfield and passed through several hands before being demolished in 1960, and the property subdivided into six allotments.

Year in which street acquired present name

Sources of information

Warburton, Elizabeth, The Paddocks Beneath, p. 24.

Burnside Street Names and their Origins

B

Bradman Court	Kensington Park
----------------------	------------------------

Origin of present name

Named after Sir Donald Bradman (1908-).

The renowned Australian cricketer Sir Donald Bradman lived most of his life in Kensington Gardens.

The street was formed when the area which had previously been the Norwood Girls High School and then a TAFE College was subdivided.

Year in which street acquired present name 1992

Sources of information

Private information from Peter Richardson of Burnside Council Engineering Dept.

Brae Road	St Georges
------------------	-------------------

Origin of present name

A name with a Scottish association probably given by Malcolm Tweedie who owned the land before subdivision in the 1920s.

Malcolm Tweedie a metallurgist from Scotland, owned The Croft and land down to Portrush Road. The house was located on the lower side of Sunnyside Road near the corner of Dashwood Road where the creek passes by. The estate was mainly a 67 acre apricot orchard and when it was subdivided a number of the local streets were given Scottish names.

(See also Blairgowrie Avenue, Craighill Road and Woodcroft Avenue all in St Georges.)

Year in which street acquired present name c. 1920

Sources of information

Warburton, Elizabeth, The Paddocks Beneath, p. 138.

Brand Street	Beulah Park
---------------------	--------------------

Origin of present name

Named after George Brand.

Frederick Howard had a twenty three acre farm in this area which was subdivided in 1879 by his widow Rosina after his death. The eastern 12 acres became the suburb of Norwood Park using finance from George Brand of Kensington, and the western 11 acres became the suburb of Rosaville.

Thus came three street names - Frederick (now Verdun), Howard and Brand.

(See also Verdun Street and Howard Street Beulah Park)

Year in which street acquired present name 1880

Sources of information

Burnside Library, Local History Collection.

Warburton, Elizabeth, The Paddocks Beneath, p. 252.

Burnside Street Names and their Origins

B

Brandreth Street	Tusmore
-------------------------	----------------

Origin of present name

Named after H. Brandreth Gibbs.

In 1911 Brandreth Gibbs was London Secretary of the South Australia Company who owned the land when it was subdivided.

Other streets in the vicinity with names of the members of that Board when this land was subdivided in 1911 are Bakewell Street, Barr Smith Street, Fisher Street, Kennaway Street and Stirling Street.

(See also the streets mentioned above.)

Year in which street acquired present name 1911

Sources of information

Mortlock Library (SA), South Australian Company Annual Report 1911.
Warburton, Elizabeth, The Paddocks Beneath.

Bretwalder Avenue	Leabrook
--------------------------	-----------------

Origin of present name

Probably based on the Aboriginal word bretwalda meaning 'running water', as there was a small rivulet entering Second Creek in this vicinity before the land was filled in.

Another less likely thought is that it could be from the Anglo-Saxon word bretwalda meaning 'high king'.

Year in which street acquired present name c. 1915

Sources of information

Private information from Ronda Collins and Vic Cramer.
June Ward from Wikipedia search.

Briant Road	Magill
--------------------	---------------

Earlier name(s) if different from present name

Lillywhite Road at the southern end.

Origin of earlier name

The Lilywhites were an early Magill family, who later acquired the Briant property and were associated with the area for nearly a hundred years. Their name appears on a 1924 sales brochure.

Origin of present name

Named after Richard Briant (1843-1928).

Richard Briant's house and orchard were on a six acre property bounded at the northern end by Magill Road. The house faced Briant Road. Briant was a wholesale potato merchant and leading figure in the Salvation Army.

Year in which street acquired present name

Sources of information

Warburton, Elizabeth, The Paddocks Beneath, pp. 202 and 215 (map).

Burnside Street Names and their Origins

B

Brierbank Terrace	Stonyfell
--------------------------	------------------

Origin of present name

Named after a plant.

Other streets in the vicinity that have names ending in bank and which can be associated with plants are Fernbank Terrace, Heatherbank Terrace, Myrtlebank Terrace and Rosebank Terrace.

Year in which street acquired present name

Sources of information

Brigalow Avenue	Kensington Gardens
------------------------	---------------------------

Origin of present name

The name is that of a species of Australian tree mainly found in Queensland.

Other streets in the vicinity with names associated with trees are Quondong Avenue, Coolibah Avenue and Myall Avenue.

Year in which street acquired present name

Sources of information

Bristol Lane	Eastwood
---------------------	-----------------

Earlier name(s) if different from present name

None.

Origin of earlier name

When the suburb of Eastwood was laid out this was an unnamed night cart lane running east from Bristol Street to service the houses on Bristol Street and John Street. The Burnside Council later decided that the lanes should have names so that they could be more easily identified.

Origin of present name

Named after Bristol Street.

(See also Bristol Street, Eastwood.)

Year in which street acquired present name 1998

Sources of information

Bristol Street	Eastwood
-----------------------	-----------------

Origin of present name

Unknown.

Probably named after the city of Bristol in England. Bath Street is close by and Bath and Bristol are in the same part of England.

Matilda Dixon and her husband lived in Bristol Street from 1887 to 1893 when they moved to the corner shop in John Street.

(See also Matilda Street, Eastwood.)

Year in which street acquired present name c. 1880

Sources of information

South Australian Directory.

Burnside Street Names and their Origins

B

Brook Avenue

Glen Osmond

Earlier name(s) if different from present name

Gilbert Street.

Origin of earlier name

Probably after Thomas Gilbert, first Colonial Storekeeper.

Origin of present name

Named after Allin Brook (1854-?).

Allin Brook who was a labourer and resident in Glen Osmond later became Manager of Brook's Quarry which is on Mount Barker Road just beyond the toll gate.

Year in which street acquired present name

Sources of information

Biographical Index of South Australia, 1836-1885, p. 180.

Cockburn, Rodney, What's in a Name, p. 84.

Brooker Street

Glenunga

Origin of present name

Unknown.

Possibly named after T. H. Brooker, MP (1850-1927), but as his life was mainly in the West Torrens District there is no obvious reason for his name to be commemorated in Glenunga.

Year in which street acquired present name

Sources of information

Cockburn, Rodney, What's in a Name, p. 32.

Manning, Geoffrey H., Manning's Place Names of South Australia, p. 51.

Broughton Street

Glenside

Origin of present name

Unknown.

Possibly named after Broughton in Lincolnshire, England.

Year in which street acquired present name

Sources of information

Bruce Street

Frewville

Earlier name(s) if different from present name

Carr Avenue (part).

Origin of earlier name

See Carr Avenue, Frewville.

Origin of present name

Unknown.

Possibly named after Theodore Bruce (1847-1911), MP, Mayor of Adelaide.

Year in which street acquired present name

Sources of information

Biographical Register of SA Parliament, p. 28.

Burnside Street Names and their Origins

B

Brunswick Lane	Dulwich
-----------------------	----------------

Earlier name(s) if different from present name

None.

Origin of earlier name

When the suburb of was laid out this was an unnamed night cart lane. The Burnside Council later decided that the lanes should have names so that they could be more easily identified.

Origin of present name

I. Named in recognition that Cleland Avenue had been named Brunswick prior to World War

Brunswick was an area of Germany from which many settlers migrated to South Australia. (See also Cleland Avenue, Dulwich.)

Year in which street acquired present name 1995

Sources of information

Corporation of the City of Burnside, Report from Manager Engineering Services to Works Committee, 21 Aug. 1995.

Buchan Avenue	Beaumont
----------------------	-----------------

Origin of present name

Named after Henry David Erskine, 12th Earl of Buchan.

Henry Erskine was the cousin of two prominent Beaumont residents in the late 1800s:

* John Fullerton Cleland (1821-1901) of Gleeville, near the corner of Dashwood Road and Sunnyside Road,

* His sister Lady Davenport who was married to Sir Samuel Davenport of Beaumont House, near corner of Glynburn Road and Dashwood Road.

Their mother Henrietta Fullerton was the sister of Christina who became the mother of the 12th Earl of Buchan.

Year in which street acquired present name

Sources of information

Cleland, J. B., The Village of Beaumont.

Royal Geographical Society of Australasia, Proceedings of SA Branch, vol. 50, 1948-49, p. 31

Burchett Avenue	Magill
------------------------	---------------

Origin of present name

Named after the Burchett family who were early residents in this area.

Year in which street acquired present name

Sources of information

Private information from Eunice Clark.

Burnside Street Names and their Origins

B

Burke Street

Tusmore

Origin of present name

Unknown.

Possibly named after Robert O'Hara Burke (1821-1861), explorer and leader of the tragic Burke and Wills expedition to the Gulf of Carpentaria 1860-1861. He was born in County Galway, Ireland and died on Coopers Creek in April 1861.

Year in which street acquired present name

Sources of information

Australian Dictionary of Biography vol. 3, p. 301.

Moorehead, A., Coopers Creek.

Burnalta Crescent

Burnside

Origin of present name

The name was adopted by the developers when Mr I. Ifould's property Kurralta was subdivided, and is assumed to be an adaptation of Burnside and Kurralta.

(See also Ifould Drive and Kurralta Drive, both of Burnside.)

Year in which street acquired present name

1989

Sources of information

Burnell Street

Linden Park

Origin of present name

Named after Arthur R. Burnell, a prominent Burnside resident. He served on the Council first as an Alderman and later as Mayor between 1948 and 1950.

Year in which street acquired present name

Sources of information

Civic records of South Australia 1936.

Colman, D. (ed), The First Hundred Years, opp p. 11.

Warburton, Elizabeth, The Paddocks Beneath, pages 298 and 347.

Burnell Street

Linden Park

Origin of present name

Named after Arthur R. Burnell.

Burnell was a Burnside resident, Councillor and Mayor in the late 1940s. A plaque on the wall of the Burnside Memorial Hospital records that it was formally opened by Alderman Arthur Burnell on 26 October 1956.

Year in which street acquired present name

Sources of information

Warburton, Elizabeth, The Paddocks Beneath p. 298.

Civic records of South Australia 1936.

Burnside Street Names and their Origins

B

Burns Avenue	Hazelwood Park
---------------------	-----------------------

Origin of present name

Unknown.
Probably named after the Scots poet Robert Burns.

Other streets in the vicinity with names associated with authors' names are Dryden Avenue (Hazelwood Park), (possibly) Gordon Place (Beaumont), Milton Avenue (Beaumont, Ruskin Place (Hazelwood Park) and Tennyson Drive (Beaumont).

Year in which street acquired present name

Sources of information

Burton Avenue	Beaumont
----------------------	-----------------

Origin of present name

Named after Matilda Lauder Burton.

Matilda Burton who was the daughter of Dr John Hill Burton, Historiographer of Scotland, later became the wife of Dr W. Lennox Cleland. One of their sons was Professor John Burton Cleland whose property Gleeville was on the corner of Dashwood Road and Sunnyside Road.

The name was given during a part subdivision.

Year in which street acquired present name

Sources of information

Warburton, Elizabeth, The Paddocks Beneath, p. 155.

Bushy Park Drive	Auldana
-------------------------	----------------

Origin of present name

Named after Bushy Park.

In the 1840s Patrick Auld acquired 400 acres in the area to the east of Penfold Road and north of what is now The Parade (but which at that time was only a track later called Auldana Road). He built a twelve-roomed stone house on the property and called it Home Park.

However two years of financial troubles were made even worse by the gold rush to Victoria in 1854. He was forced to subdivide the Home Park property and the vineyards that he had planted on the lower lying land. He then built a smaller house Bushy Park higher up the hill, and planted more vines there.

(See also Patrick Auld Drive, Auldana.)

Patrick Auld may also have been aware that Bushy Park was the name of a property in England owned by the Duke of Clarence who was later King William IV and whose wife was Queen Adelaide.

Year in which street acquired present name

1980

Sources of information

Warburton, Elizabeth, The Paddocks Beneath, p. 214.

Burnside Street Names and their Origins

B

Byhurst Avenue	Frewville
-----------------------	------------------

Origin of present name

Unknown.

Year in which street acquired present name

Sources of information

Byron Avenue	Hazelwood Park
---------------------	-----------------------

Origin of present name

Unknown.

Probably named after the English poet Lord Byron.

Other streets in the vicinity with names associated with authors' names are Burns Avenue (Hazelwood Park), Dryden Avenue (Hazelwood Park), Milton Avenue (Beaumont), Tennyson Drive (Beaumont) and Ruskin Place (Hazelwood Park).

Year in which street acquired present name

Sources of information

Burnside Court	Burnside
-----------------------	-----------------

Earlier name(s) if different from present name

William Street and then Gartrell Street.

Origin of earlier name

Originally William Street, Burnside Court and Gartrell Street were all one road named William Street. Part of the street was then closed to allow extensions to Burnside School and the southern end was renamed Gartrell Street.

(See also William Street, Burnside and Gartrell Street, Burnside.)

Origin of present name

The name was suggested by Burnside Primary School to apply to that section of William Street which is north of High Street between Gartrell Street and the school.

Year in which street acquired present name

1990

Sources of information

Corporation of the City of Burnside, Access, June 1990.