Vale Street	Skye

Origin of present name
Unknown.
One of several streets in Skye with names that are descriptive of the landscape.
Year in which street acquired present name
Sources of information

Valley Drive	Skye

Origin of present name
Unknown.
One of several streets in Skye with names that are descriptive of the landscape.
Year in which street acquired present name
Sources of information

Vansittart Place	Beaumont

Origin of present name
Named after William Vansittart.
William Vansittart was an Anglo-Irishman who built a large eight-roomed house on the south side of Beaumont Common before 1850. Known as a gallant rider and good bushman he was killed in November 1854 when thrown by a horse at Rivoli Bay in the south east of South Australia.
The house was extended later and had a tower added probably in the 1880s, when owned by the land agent K. St Barbe Miller. During the 1970s and 1980s it was a reception centre but is now a private house. It still stands as Tower House.
Year in which street acquired present name   Probably about 1950
Sources of information
Private information from Gladys Byfield who with her husband Mr W. J. Byfield was the first resident to build in Vansittart Place.
Warburton, Elizabeth, The Paddocks Beneath, p. 159.

Vauxhall Street	Erindale

Origin of present name
Unknown.
Probably named after the Vauxhall motor car which was first manufactured in England in 1902. It was a famous touring car in later years when manufactured at the Luton works in England, and was used extensively as a staff car during World War I.
Other streets in the vicinity with names associated with motor cars are Crossley Street and Talbot Street.
Year in which street acquired present name
Sources of information

V

Verdale Avenue	Linden Park

Origin of present name

Named after Verdale a variety of olive trees growing in the area.

Year in which street acquired present name

Sources of information

Private information from Max Ey, formerly of 1 Dutton Street, Glen Osmond.

Verdelho Court	Auldana

Origin of present name

Named after a type of grape.

This land was originally vineyards belonging to the Auldana Winery until they were subdivided. Other streets in the vicinity with names associated with wines are Hermitage Road, Sylvaner Avenue and Traminer Way.

Year in which street acquired present name

Sources of information

Evans, L., Pocket Guide to Australian Wines, p. 104.

Verdun Street	Beulah Park

Earlier name(s) if different from present name

Frederick Street.

Origin of earlier name

Probably named after Frederick Howard a local farmer.

(See also Brand Street and Howard Street Beulah Park)

Origin of present name

Named after the ferocious battle of Verdun in France during World War I.

Year in which street acquired present name   1916

Sources of information

Corporation of the City of Burnside, Council Minutes 2 Oct 1916 and 21 Dec 1916.
Warburton, Elizabeth, The Paddocks Beneath, p. 252.

Victoria Terrace	Rose Park

Earlier name(s) if different from present name

Gurney Road.

Origin of earlier name

Named after Mr J. Gurney, Director of the South Australian Company in England which originally owned the land.

See also Gurney Road, Dulwich.

Origin of present name

Probably named after the Queen Victoria when the road was split into two sections to provide additional land for Rose Park Primary School.

Year in which street acquired present name

Sources of information

Mortlock Library (SA), South Australian Company Annual Report.

View Street	Burnside

Origin of present name

Unknown.

Probably because there is a good view from the street.

Year in which street acquired present name

Sources of information

View Street	Glen Osmond

Origin of present name

Unknown.

Probably because there is good view from the street.

Year in which street acquired present name

Sources of information

Vine Lane	Glen Osmond

Earlier name(s) if different from present name

Henderson's Lane.

Origin of earlier name

Named after Thomas Henderson, the first licensee of the Vine Inn. This was probably an informal name given to a track before being properly adopted by the council.

Origin of present name

Named after the Vine Inn which was at the Glen Osmond end of the road.

The inn which was built in 1850 comprised eleven rooms in a two storey building with a balcony in front, three stockyards, wooden stables and a string of cottages along Vine Lane. After Thomas Henderson's death in 1862 his widow ran or leased the business until 1874 when she bought the Wattle Grove estate. It continued as a hotel till 1909 and was then run as the Vine Boarding House and then as a corner shop until later in the 1900s when it was demolished.

Year in which street acquired present name

Sources of information

Corporation of the City of Burnside, Minutes, 13 & 21 May 1912.

Warburton, Elizabeth, The Paddocks Beneath, p. 105.

Vine Street	Beulah Park

Origin of present name

Unknown.

Probably so named because of vines growing in the area.

Year in which street acquired present name

Sources of information

V

Vintage Court　　　Magill

Origin of present name

Named after wine vintages.

The name was suggested by the owner/developer Dr Khera when he submitted the plans for the subdivision of the old ETSA depot. It recognises the importance of the vineyards in the eastern suburbs.

Year in which street acquired present name　　　1997

Sources of information

Information from Andrew Ward, (Burnside Library) from Council Committee Minutes.

Vista Avenue　　　Skye

Origin of present name

Unknown.

One of several streets in Skye with names that are descriptive of the landscape.

Year in which street acquired present name

Sources of information

Von Rieben Lane　　　Toorak Gardens

Earlier name(s) if different from present name

None.

Origin of earlier name

When the suburb was laid out this was an unnamed lane. The Burnside Council later decided that the lanes should have names so that they could be more easily identified.

Origin of present name

Named after Otto Von Rieben (1863 - 1949).

Otto Von Rieben made a fortune at Broken Hill and then retired to Attunga on Kensington Road. Later he moved to Pomona at Stirling and as he and his wife were childless, he finally bequeathed Attunga to the Burnside Council on his death.

A deed dated 14 March 1944 transfers the property subject to the permanent preservation of the house and garden in the form of a nursing home, and from this evolved the Burnside Memorial Hospital. The hospital is now in a more modern building but the old house still serves other medical purposes and the garden is a public reserve..

Year in which street acquired present name　　　1995

Sources of information

Corporation of the City of Burnside, Report from Manager Engineering Services to Works Committee, 21 Aug. 1995.

Warburton, Elizabeth, The Paddocks Beneath, p. 297.